WINNIPEG ELECTRIC STRIKE AVERTED BY LATE COMPROMISE

Ballot to Be Taken on Proposed Reduction of 15 Per Cent in Employees' Wages—Final Amicable Settlement of Dispute Promised as Result of Agreement

WINNIPEG, Sept. 15 (CP).—Strike of Winnipeg Electric Railway employees, scheduled to go into effect tonight at midnight, was averted as the result of an agreement reached late this afternoon. Representatives of the men and the company agreed to accept a compromise proposal which promised amicable settlement of the dispute.

The strike order has been withdrawn and the men will take a ballot on the proposed 15 per cent wage reduction.

One of the contentions of the company officials was that the employees had no opportunity to express their wishes through a secret ballot.

WORDING OF BALLOT

"Are you willing to accept the 15 per cent reduction in wages advocated in the findings of the board of conciliation?"

"In the event of a majority on this ballot being in the negative, are you agreeable to the matters in dispute being referred to a board appointed by the Provincial Government under the Industrial Conditions Act?"

Pending taking of the ballot, the company has agreed to deposit with the Board of Public Utilities a cheque equivalent to the difference in wages between the 15 per cent reduction and the present scale. One cent will be deducted from the men meanwhile will carry the 15 per cent cut in dispute. It is further agreed the whole dispute must be settled within three months.

MEDICAL HEAD RETIRING SOON

Dr. E. M. Pearce to Vacate Important Jubilee Hospital Post

Completing thirty-four years in the medical profession, Dr. E. M. Pearce, superintendent of the Royal Jubilee Hospital, asked the board of directors, last night, to accept his application for retirement. His resignation was accepted with regret, Dr. Pearce having been associated with the hospital for the last eleven years.

His resignation will take effect on November 30. Dr. Pearce explained he was retiring from active work and thanked the board for the consideration and help he had always received, while the directors, in accepting his resignation, expressed their regret that he was leaving the institution.

WANT APPLICANTS

It was decided to call for applications for the position of superintendent by advertisement, and that all applications should be returned by September 30.

Dr. Pearce was educated at Gifford College and Bristol University, graduating in medicine in April 1909. He served with the Royal Army Medical Corps in the South African War, after which he was in general practice in Cornwall, England, from 1909 until 1912, in which year he came to Victoria.

He was in private practice here until the outbreak of the Great War, when he rejoined the Royal Army Medical Corps, and served at

COUNCIL WILL MAKE PROTEST

Federal Public Works Offices Will Have to Pay Rent in Vancouver

Mayor David Leeming will telegraph a protest on behalf of the City Council to the Dominion Government in Ottawa against the removal of the public works offices from Victoria to Vancouver.

The protest, which was decided upon at yesterday's meeting of the council, is based chiefly on the fact that offices will have to be rented in Vancouver, whereas the Government owns its own building in Victoria.

In addition, it will be pointed out that employees of the public works department here, in order to sell their homes so as to move to Vancouver, will be forced to sell them to others.

Leeming said it was just a move to catch votes for a Vancouver politician, and that they would move the Parliament Buildings to Vancouver if they could get them on a score.

Earlier in the day, Leeming had been made to form a diocese of the Arctic by eliminating the diocese of Mackenzie River and making other diocesan boundary arrangements. The appointments were formally announced by Archbishop G. O. Strickland, who had insisted on a more public investigation.

The appointments were made last night at the closing session of the provincial synod of the ecclesiastical province of the Yukon.

BEGGAR BOY IS CHAMPION

Major Award of Horse Show Week at Willows Goes to Carley Stables

Beggar Boy, the Kentucky-bred nine-year-old brown gelding from the Carley Stables, carried off the championship ribbon at the Horse Show last night as the crowning episode in a fine week's performance. Selected for the distinction from a string of twelve first and second prize winners, the award was popular, not only because of the splendid form shown by Beggar Boy, but because he placed the horses in a popular stable that has contributed several first-class entrants to this and past shows.

Beggar Boy came to Vancouver Island about six years ago and both before and since has a race-track history, winning some twenty-five stakes. Two years ago he was selected by the eye of Judge Wilfred, of Kentucky, when he was here judging race horses, and had the owner been willing to part with him, Beggar Boy would have gone back to the South with the Judge.

Ambercrest, Mrs. D. L. Gillespie's handsome and spirited chestnut gelding, carried off the championship ribbon, another very popular award, as this animal also gave many magnificent performances during the week.

OTHER SUCCESSES

The Carley Stables had two other outstanding successes last night. Mrs. Carley riding Pop Over, Beggar Boy and Chenango, the first, second and third prize winners in the thoroughbred jumping class; and Mr. Carley winning the Grafton brood-junior class (Class 97) on the chestnut gelding Sir Wilfred.

This last event, the most spectacular of the evening, was also the most spectacular event of the week. Extremely middlesome and full of spirit, Sir Wilfred took the timber and twelve-foot broad jump in fine style, clearing perfectly. He was up and he stopped madly for the jump, attempting and nearly clearing the eight-foot door. Fortunately, it flew open under the impact, and although both horse and rider fell, the extent of the casualty was an injured ankle for Mr. Carley, who was wildly cheered as he very promptly re-entered the ring, mounted to receive his red ribbon.

The award of the red ribbon to the Thorburn Tranier six-horse team earlier in the evening was also the signal for much applause.

THE RESULTS

The results were as follows:

Class 53, driving contest, six-horse heavy draft team, final—1, Robert Thorburn (Vancouver) Transfer team of Clydesdales; 2, Crystal Dr. (Vancouver) Clydesdales.

Class 71, saddle horses or gelding, exceeding 15.2 hands, judged for conformation, soundness, walk, trot and canter—1, Ambercrest, ch. g., Mrs. D. L. Gillespie; 2, Amigo, bkg., J. E. Mathews; 3, Kildare, Mrs. D. Hogan.

Class 91, pony ponies, conformation 25 per cent, performance 75 per cent, shown with manœuvres—1, Volta, g.m., W. L. Stewart-Macleod; 2, Queen of Spades, bkg., Russell's Riding Academy; 3, Buckskin Bob, g. Mrs. D. Hogan.

Class 92, children's ponies, other than Shetland, under 14 hands, ridden by boy or under 12 hands, conformation 40 per cent, manners and gait, 60 per cent (sponsored by G. G. Hazelwood)—1, Queen of Spades, bkg., Russell's Riding Academy; 2, Bobby, Chum, Carley; 3, Ruby, bkg., Patricia Dow.

Class 85, jumping, best performance over six jumps, three over 3 ft. 6 ins. of 15 ft. 6 ins., 8 ins. of 10 ft. 6 ins. top, three posts and 3 ft. 10 ins.—1, Buckskin Bob, g. Mrs. D. Hogan; 2, Beggar Boy, bkg.

ONLY ONE ANSWER

"Then if you won't answer it, I will answer for you," Mayor Leeming retorted.

OPPOSES INQUIRY

"There is only one answer, and you know it. The Government and its agents that every city and municipality shall maintain its own maintenance department. That is what Nanaimo and Saanich fail to do. They use relief labor in their maintenance department, and you know it, the citizens do."

The Mayor went on to say that that was the difference between the city and Nanaimo. Victoria had its own maintenance department in accordance with Government regulations, and handled its relief labor independent of this department.

Mr. Day interjected to say that he considered Nanaimo had the proper way of handling relief.

TRIAL DELAYED FOR CAMPAIGN

Leader of Opposition Granted Postponement of Action Pending Elections

An interesting point was raised in Supreme Court Chambers here, yesterday morning, involving the discretion of a judge to grant a postponement to the leader of a political party from having to attend court action during the progress of a political campaign. As a result of it, T. D. Pattullo, leader of the Liberal party, was excused from being present to his usual court appearance for discovery in an action in which he was appearing as the defendant arising out of an automobile accident.

On the application of J. W. deB. Farris, K.C., and Roy Manzer, made in chambers before Mr. Justice Sinnot, the postponement for discovery was postponed until November 3, the day after the forthcoming election, with the trial of the action set for November 7. Mr. Farris said a special jury would be asked for.

The plaintiffs in the action are W. A. and Mathilda Slow, who are represented in court by Mr. deB. Farris. The claim is for $30,000 damages. Mr. Farris intimated during the proceedings yesterday, he was informed that any damages were fully covered by insurance.

Reports Good Hunting Prospect in Alberni District—Grouse Are Plentiful

PORT ALBERNI, Sept. 15.—Game Warden Allan Monks killed two cougars yesterday near Sprout Lake. These were full grown, male and female. This energetic game official has a trained couple hours and loses no time in getting into the woods whenever a cougar is reported in the vicinity. He reports that grouse are quite plentiful and considers that hunters will have excellent luck on Saturday morning. Deer are more than sufficient numbers to make the deer hunters anxious to be on the ground as soon as the season opens.

Constable Monks reports that hunting licences have been taken out this year than last.

Forts Guard France on German Border

FRANCE'S answer to Hitlerism, the threat of monarchical restoration in Germany, and the possibility of a Franco-German border after two years of labor and at a reported cost of more than $300,000,000. At the top is an artist's conception of the secret underground fort being constructed in the Alsace-Lorraine sector, said to be traveled to resemble great white ant hills. The forts are reported so strongly constructed as to resist the heaviest of air bombs. Map shows the frontier, and on left are marching German soldiers, the ostensible French reason for the building of the forts.

Little Theatre Association to Present Three Major Plays—One Is "The Jade God"

The Victoria Little Theatre Association will present three major plays during the Winter play season. It was decided at a meeting of the board members Thursday. The first will be the mystery play "The Jade God," and will be produced by Leslie Lamb in the Shrine Auditorium probably the first week in November.

The association is also planning a big production for the Christmas week, but the name of the play has yet been made known. This production, it was stated, would be an attraction for children as well as adults.

It was also decided to hold monthly meetings the second Tuesday in each month until further notice. Persons who wish to become members may do so by communicating with the Little Theatre.

J. T. Stolt, secretary of the association, requested that the Victoria College lecture room be placed at the disposal of the organization again this year. The request was granted.

Below is the schedule of meetings: October 1, 26, November 3 and 23, December 7, January 11 and 15, February 1 and 15, and March 1 and 15.

WARDEN SHOOTS PAIR OF COUGARS

Reports Good Hunting Prospect in Alberni District—Grouse Are Plentiful

MOOSE JAW, Sept. 15 (CP)—A Moose Jaw woman was injured yesterday when two cougars were shot near Sprout Lake. These were full grown, male and female. This energetic game official has a trained couple hours and loses no time in getting into the woods whenever a cougar is reported in the vicinity. He reports that grouse are quite plentiful and considers that hunters will have excellent luck on Saturday morning. Deer are more than sufficient numbers to make the deer hunters anxious to be on the ground as soon as the season opens.

Constable Monks reports that hunting licences have been taken out this year than last.

MONTRÉAL, Sept. 15 (CP)—On April 24, a trunk containing fifty Grand National Rail Bonds, valued at $1,000 each, was taken from an automobile parked outside a Montreal hotel, and today police in Memphis, Tenn., were checking up on a report the bonds were in possession of a Lauratown, Ark., burglar.

Thieves broke the door of the car and took out a club bag containing the bonds while the custodian of the securities was at dinner.

THE PALLADIUM OF RIGHTS

The press is under a constant and raking fire of criticism for sins of commission and omission. In some minds, a few of which are blinded by prejudice or suspicion, an impression always exists that some newspaper or some special section of the press is bent upon indulging in some form of propaganda throughout its columns with dire and sinister motives. The fact is that no newspaper which hopes to secure and maintain public support, and which thereby hopes to continue to publish, can go on prostituting its columns. A newspaper primarily exists to hold up the mirror to current news happenings. It is true that, according to the capability of reporters and according as well to the manner of their direction, such news is presented in varying guise. There is something in the nature of a standardized style in news writing; there may be a score or one way of the presentation of the same story in different newspapers.

A local minister of the Church has been criticizing the press, as is his undoubted right, but the implication of all he has to say is that there should be a controlled press, in other words, that its freedom should be circumscribed. That, in effect, is the issue of such criticism. Presumably our local critic is mainly concerned with the local press, yet his emphasis in his latest letter to this newspaper is based on statements made in Europe regarding certain armament firms influencing public opinion through control of newspapers. It is quite true that there are a score or so of ways in which it is sought to influence publicity for different ends, just as there are at least a hundred variations in the presentation of the Christian religion.

Criticism, however, of the character noted all tends to the end that the press should be controlled, though the critic in question does not say by whom. Possibly the completest answer to this contention comes from Mr. R. J. Scott, of The Manchester Guardian, in a paper which he read a few weeks ago at the Eastbourne conference of the British Institute of Journalists, in the course of which he urged newspapermen to "stand by freedom of the Press as a fundamental condition of the enlightened progress and happiness of mankind." It is the avowed Communists and Fascists who advocate muffing the free expression of opinion. The German press was muzzled so that the revolution might be accomplished there. The German people are not allowed to know more than their present rulers want them to know. It is the same in Russia and Italy. The press in all these countries is being used to build up a new psychology favorable to the theories of the despots in power. Control of the Press is a prerequisite to the duping of a nation.

Mr. R. J. Scott says that freedom of the Press is not a concrete thing which either is or is not. Like other forms of liberty, it is a delicate adjustment of rights and duties. That freedom, indeed, is bound up in the whole idea of change and progress. It is in the state of freedom that the Press supplies part of its own correction. "It may be," says Mr. Scott, "that most individuals confine their reading to newspapers of one party color; but opinions filter through, and a process of check and contradiction is going on all the time through the free exchange of opinion in the daily contacts of life. Moreover, the best journals do not give the other side a fair hearing." There is not a shadow of doubt that the Press in British countries uses its freedom with a due sense of responsibility. Were political authority exercised over it, its freedom would be gone. Its main purpose is to keep the public mind abreast of events. "A people," to quote The London Morning Post, "blinded by authority may be happy and prosperous, but they cannot be free. In a modern state all civil liberty is bound up with the freedom of the Press."

That freedom was fought for during centuries and only won after strenuous efforts. Its victory coincided with the development of constitutional government and of democracy itself. It is as true today as it was in the time of Junius, when he wrote: "Let it be impressed upon your minds, let it be instilled into your children, that the liberty of the Press is the palladium of all the civil, political and religious rights of an Englishman." Junius might have written that sentence to cover the rights, as well, of the inhabitants of any country. Our critic will note that religious rights are dependent on a free press. It is in those countries where the press is politically controlled that the expression of religious thought is cabin'd, cibed and confined, and in the country where the press has been entirely proscribed to political ends by governmental decree religion is persecuted and banned as a part of the life of the people.

ECONOMIC FALLACIES

A new light on the programme of the C.C.F. in Canada has been furnished by Mr. C. Lambert, an Italian who has recently arrived in this country and who has been speaking on behalf of the political party in Toronto. Mr. Lambert, presumably with Mr. J. S. Woodsworth's approval, indicates the Socialists are prepared to embark on a "great programme of public works" if given power, and to do this the credit system will be socialized. There are just two economic obstacles to this programme. Canada does not want any more public works for the time being. There are a number already constructed which are white elephants. That is one economic obstacle. The other is that a credit system cannot be socialized for it is a question of good faith, something in others which you must believe you have before you have it. Whatever men may socialize they cannot socialize the intangible.

No Government conducted by the C.C.F. or any other political party, could engage on a "Great programme of public works," except either by extensive borrowing or intensive taxation, and the latter is a corollary of the former. It seems, therefore, that the new Socialist Party making a bid for political power is intent on increased taxation. Therein lies one extreme danger in its politics. It is profuse with promises. Not one of these could be performed without reaching into the pockets of the taxpayers. Seizing of the sources of production will not provide the funds for public works, or for any other scheme proposed by the C.C.F. That party, it is true, might conceivably raise prices in order to provide governmental funds once it had the means of production in its hands, but, unless it simultaneously raised wages, the purchasing power of the people would necessarily decline, as would also their ability to pay taxes. The question of taxation is one conveniently avoided by the C.C.F. in its programme. That is how it bemuses the people. It hides the fact that to carry any of its socialization policies into effect there must be a process of grinding the faces of all the people.

It is symptomatic of C.C.F. policies that aliens who have recently arrived in this country should be allowed to explain what is proposed. Mr. Lambert is too recently a resident in Canada to know anything worth while of economic conditions here. Similarly, there are thousands of foreigners living in the Dominion who have espoused the policies of the C.C.F. because they connote international socialism and are based on Marxian teachings with a liberal sprinkling of the Communistic dogma of Soviet Russia. Those policies are, in truth, a strange melange. Mr. Lambert has disclosed one of their paradoxes. What, for instance, would be the necessity for a "great programme of public works" to provide employment if the C.C.F. could seize all the sources of productive work and thereby engage all the labor in the country—at a profit, or a loss? It would be at a loss, of course, and then where would the money be forthcoming to create a "great programme of public works?" It is only because so many of the followers of the C.C.F. are in such a muddled state of mind that they can swallow such fallacies as are proposed by men like Mr. Lambert.

REVOLUTIONARY GRATITUDE

The closing years of Prince Kropotkin, the Russian educator and revolutionary, may well teach a lesson to those in Canada who are enamored with socialistic teachings, but who do not look ahead to the consequences of their adoption in Canada. Prince Kropotkin was a philosophical anarchist who believed in human co-operation along with the minimum of government. For teaching these doctrines he was an exile for many years in London. Of singularly gentle personality he was highly esteemed in his adopted land. He was not a terrorist, so that when he returned to Russia in 1917 after the revolution, the foundations of which he had done so much to lay, he found himself unwanted by those in power. Their excesses and barbarities were revolting to him.

The theory of government that he would have brought about by peaceful means had been put into action by extremists of the left wing in a fury of injustice, tyranny and blood. This bit of history may well throw light upon the present situation in Canada where some of the leaders of a political body with a revolutionary programme assert that it will be carried out deliberately and in an orderly fashion. Electors who are toying with the idea of voting for this party should learn from Prince Kropotkin's experience. It might be left wing extremists who would get control and stampede the party into an attack on Russia, upon the life, liberty and property of the Canadian people.

Since motoring has been increasing courtesy of the road is on the decline. There was a time when a fellow motorist would always stop in the case of noting another car on the road with a flat tire or engine trouble. "Now," says The Petrol Advertiser-Toplo, "the car has to be smashed beyond repair and a few people killed or injured before anyone stops."

LET WELL ALONE

We have had no N.R.A. in Canada, and no "Blue Eagle," and little of picturesque oratory about the "forgotten man." But we have had a great deal of the "man" here, without hands, badges and marches, and have exercised to the full the old British custom of grubbing. We have been making tremendous progress. Industrially and in general business, in employment and production, in practically everything that makes for economic betterment, we have marched steadily ahead, and all the signs tell that the march is to continue—Ottawa Journal.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

Know then this truth (enough for man to know)—
"Virtue alone is happiness below."

—Pope.

He had a little kitten pressed to his heart with one hand and was dragging a toy wagon with the other hand. It was just an ordinary-looking small boy, dressed as to his lower parts in blue overalls and as to his upper story in a non-descript cap set far back. He was beginning the day early in the morning by seeking adventure, and appeared to be well satisfied not only with himself and the station in life in which Providence had been pleased to establish him. He was midway between infancy and school days. No doubt he had encountered some domestic infelicities, for man is of woman born of woman, is of woman full of trouble. Parents naturally take an unreasonable view of the attitude of children to the deeper problems of life.

He was not a sociable little chap. Probably if he had met another boy of his own age and station he might have been persuaded to undergo and cast off some of his constitutional austerity, but he was avverse to conversation with us. The only fact we could gather from our monosyllabic scraps of conversation was that the kitten in his arms might have been puppy and the wagon had been equipped with pedals, like Jimmie's. Thus it appeared that there is always something lacking to make life completely satisfactory and enjoyable. Even in the earliest years Jimmie has something that Bobby hasn't got. "Man never is, but always to be blessed." The child is father of the man. And at the bottom of the street on which Bobby was seeking adventures was the cemetery in which all the troubles, tribulations, ambitions and triumphs of men are buried.

In the life of a boy the present time is always the best and the happiest time; but the boy does not know it. In this age of marvels, with all its inventions an instrument has not yet been conceived and perfected which will reveal and measure the thoughts which enter the mind of a child. If we had been able to read the thoughts of our little boy, probably we would have discovered that that boy was wallowing impatiently for the day when he would attain the stature and dignity of a man and assume the responsibilities of manhood.

A philosopher has said that everything pertaining to this world which is ever the same. Strife and sorrow have been the portion of man from the beginning, modified to some extent by brief periods of comparative felicity. That is because men dream of and grub after that which is unattainable. If the goal of the leaders of the Oxford Group, the three absolute virtues, were capable of achievement we suppose the lives and circumstances of all men would be akin to Utopia. Possibly if all men were absolutely unselfish the unrest which pervades the world today might be succeeded by absolute contentment. Most of us believe that if the spirit of Christianity were accepted and practiced by the people of the earth, even the politicians would cease from troubling and the weary would find rest. The unchanging and unchanging abstraction known as human nature is the barrier to human peace and tranquility.

Many tributes have been paid to the late Viscount Grey as a man and statesman, indeed as a model for all men who cherish ambitions. We doubt whether ever any man in the history of the world was called upon to fill a more difficult and responsible position than the Foreign Minister of the Asquith Government. We doubt whether any finer tribute to his memory and his work appeared any publication than the following editorial (in part) printed in The Christian Science Monitor:

One who would write appropriately of Viscount Grey should leach his pen with the restraint which characterizes the man; yet some superlatives are required: For here was the very epitome of the "English gentleman."

History will put Edward Grey down as the man who took Great Britain into the World War. Nature however rewards him as the friend of birds and trees who guided Theodore Roosevelt on a walk through the New Forest. Fishermen place him as the author of the best book on fly casting. Some sportmen recall that he was several times the champion of England. Every knew him long as Foreign Secretary. American birds as Ambassador to Washington. His own country is likely to cherish his memory chiefly as a most "English gentleman."

Indeed, he typified the "country gentleman" at his best. So naturally patriotic that he never failed to be democratic, so "arm'd with honesty" that he needed no brilliance, so completely free from self-seeking that men thrust him and re-sought him upon him, and so wholly unselfish that he could trust his own feelings. "Lord Grey applied to England as peculiarly as his own heart to his people."

This man who was destined to bear the brunt in those cataclysmic days of August, 1914, said himself that he would rather "keep a flock sheep upon the hillsides than meddle with the government of men."

Yet he spent his life in public service Noblesse oblige! He worked as few men have for peace, but became the fulcrum on which his partner chose a choice. By bidding diamond he might force himself to bid hearts at the range of five.

Managing Board of German Line Urges Continuous Policy

Hamburg-American Company Lost Heavily Last Year—Officials Deprecate Subsidies Granted By Other Countries to Shipowners

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The continued operation of German shipping services is urged by the managing board of the Hamburg-American Line as essential to the maintenance of Germany's position in the world of shipping, despite their inability to show a favorable balance of trade. The board, which is a part of the board, which was submitted recently to stockholders, was distributed in the United States.

German shipping, the board points out, always has been an important factor in the development of the German national idea, and should be upheld as an expression of nationalism and an important factor in the development of the nation's trade.

Discussing ship sailing as a national project, the board states: "During the pre-war period they bore witness, in their dealings with the German Government, to the powerful forces inherent in the country's national economy. They helped to augment Germany's prestige throughout the world and to enhance the respect paid to the German flag."

RECORD DURING WAR

The board cites the record of the German merchant marine during the Great War as a valuable aid to the nation, and urges that the work of the German shipping fleet which has taken place in the past fifteen years be continued. The report for 1932 shows the line suffered losses, but the board urges that elements which could not be controlled by Germany were responsible. It cites the subsidies of foreign nations to their merchant fleets as an important cause of the situation.

"Business during the year under review," says the board, "the same as has been the case ever since 1929, was dominated by the prolonged serious depression throughout the world, and by its serious repercussions upon the economic relationships between the various countries. Every shipping undertaking, irrespective of its nationality, was gravely affected by the immense shrinkage in the volume of world trade."

German shipping, moreover, continued to be specially handicapped, as has already been pointed out in previous reports, by the heavy subsidies granted to foreign shipowners and by the depreciation of sterling and certain other currencies which are of importance to the shipping business, so that whatever indications of recovery there were were doomed to failure. So far as our money is concerned, its business suffered from the temporary discontinuance of American compensation money (due to political causes) and from the import restrictions that had to be resorted to with a view to protecting our agriculture and saving it from ruin."

INCOME WAS LESS

While the income of the company during 1932 was $1,000,000 less than the 1931 income, the total loss was less than had been anticipated at the start of the year, the board

JACKSON STEAMS OUTBOUND TODAY

American Mail Line Ship Leaving for Orient—Ruth Out Tonight—Restorer Coming

On her way to the Philippine Islands via Japan and China ports, American Mail Line's Ss. Ruth Jackson is due at Rithet Piers at 4 o'clock this afternoon, coming here from Seattle. The Jackson is taking out a fair passenger list and a full load of general cargo. She will embark some 200 sailors bound for Yokohama her first port of call on the other side of the Pacific, at 6 o'clock.

Bound for California ports, the Pacific Steamship Lines Ss. Ruth Alexander will arrive alongside Rithet Piers this evening, at 10 o'clock from Seattle. The Ruth will have all her accommodation occupied when she leaves here at mid-night for San Francisco. A number of Island and Mainland passengers will board the ship here.

Returning from the Island of Guernsey, the Captain Read is now on her way to Victoria. She should be tied up at her regular berth at Rithet Piers some time next week.

Time for Change

In Rules on Air Transportation

In view of the fact that Canada has a national air mail system before long, a number of aviation experts are of the opinion that a rebuilding of air transportation's control structure may well be considered at this time.

"If we examine our regulations (1920), we find many clauses and sections which have been out of date for many years," stated Major D. G. MacLaren, Canadian Airways, Ltd.

This was pointed out in speaking of the need for disassociation of commercial flying and air transportation control by the Department of National Defence in any early code. He explained that the present air regulations, governing the operations of aircraft in Canada, were drawn up in 1920, and remain the same except for a number of amendments. They were created with little knowledge of the possibilities of aircraft as a commercial venture.

"Changes are needed to satisfy the great need for coherent, understandable, workable regulations designed to regulate transcontinental air service, together with the irregular and auxiliary operations in the remote part of the country," claimed Major MacLaren.

REGIMENT HONORS BRIGADIER BROWN

Former Commander of Military District No. 11 Receives Token From N.C.O.'s

Brigadier J. Sutherland Brown, retired commander of Military District No. XI, was the honored guest at a dinner officiated by sergeants and sergeants of the Canadian Scottish Regiment at a smoker on Thursday night in the Armories.

R.S.M. Green presented Brigadier Brown with a tobacco humidor, engraved with the words, "From the O.C.'s staff-sergeants and sergeants of the Canadian Scottish Regiment." The brigadier replied guestfully.

Guests at the smoker were: Brigadier Brown, Lieut.-Col. Brooke Stephen, Major Gien Hoidal, Major Walter Baply, Major J. R. Kinnear, Major D. O. Thomas, Sergeant J. Milton, piped them in to the reception hall.

Staff-Sergeant Percy Derbyshire and Sergeant T. Dempster arranged the entertainment. The following took part: Jerry Scofield, Thomas Pope, Douglas Park, Sergeant John Goss, Captain J. G. Anderson, R. R. Webb, R.S.M. J. Robertson, C.S.M. H. Warburton, R.S.M. J. R. Green and B. Moore.

Two warnings were issued by the International Fisheries Commission that heavy landings of halibut would exhaust distant quota before the season is over. Despite this, catch limits were reduced in advance of expectations and the season closed.

Flying Concerns On Mainland Are Talking Mergers

Plans are being formulated on the Mainland for an association of commercial aviation operators to make possible a closer co-operation of air transportation services in British Columbia. Definite announcement of the new organization is looked for next week, when the five companies, at present interested in the field, will have arrived at a working arrangement.

Wells Air Transport, Limited, Pacific Airways, Limited, Coast Air Transport, Limited, Neal Evans and Thomas Jones are operators who are working out details of the new plan of co-operation. Wells Air Transport, Limited, will be the head-quarters base for the formation of all aircraft involved, and a tie-up in co-operative publicity is included in present plans.

Closer co-operation of these operators is expected to result in more adequate air transport services, and in the provision of efficient service and maintenance facilities at the Lulu Island base. Under this plan, aircraft for every requirement would be available from the one point.

Plans are being formulated on the Mainland for an association of commercial aviation operators to make possible a closer co-operation of air transportation services in British Columbia. Definite announcement of the new organization is looked for next week, when the five companies, at present interested in the field, will have arrived at a working arrangement.

Wells Air Transport, Limited, Pacific Airways, Limited, Coast Air Transport, Limited, Neal Evans and Thomas Jones are operators who are working out details of the new plan of co-operation. Wells Air Transport, Limited, will be the head-quarters base for the formation of all aircraft involved, and a tie-up in co-operative publicity is included in present plans.

Closer co-operation of these operators is expected to result in more adequate air transport services, and in the provision of efficient service and maintenance facilities at the Lulu Island base. Under this plan, aircraft for every requirement would be available from the one point.

Churches and Their World-Wide Work

FRASER BROS. TO CONTINUE

Many Great Evangelists at
for Second Week

Tomorrow the Fraser Brothers will begin their second week at the Central Baptist Church. Large and appreciative congregations gathered last Lord's Day, and the increasing attendance through the past week has been the result of the success of splendid meetings. Each meeting the Fraser Brothers bring an entirely fresh message in their own unique style. The people of Victoria are proving the statement concerning the Fraser Brothers to be exact. The "prophecy" of the Fraser Brothers has proved indeed a rich blessing to the church and community. Their methods are sound and sane, and, happily, devoid of the spectacular. Their ministry is fresh, wholesome, vigorous, Christian, direct, and spiritual.

On Sunday morning at 11 o'clock the subject will be "Abraham, God's Friend," and at 3 there will be another prophetic rally, when the special subject will be "Prophecy in Relation to the Nations." Any who heard the prophetic themes of last week may return again to hear this, and all are urged to be in attendance. At the evening gospel service at 7:30 o'clock the message is to be "Christ's Challenge to the World."

LANTERN LECTURE
Monday night at 8 o'clock there will be a lantern lecture on a special request, entitled "Scotland and the Times of John Knox." Each time the Fraser Brothers gave one of their lantern lectures on their first visit, seating accommodation was usually taxed to capacity, so it is urged that those desiring to see and hear to advantage should come early. Other addresses will be on Tuesday at 8 "Paul's Challenge to Caesar"; Wednesday, "Peter's Challenge to Judah"; Thursday, "Conference: Supposition or Certainly"; Friday, "Prophecy—Doubt"; "Was the Atonement a necessity?"

Inspiring congregational singing marks these meetings, as well as the gospel songs of the Fraser Brothers. Spiritual uplift and revival for all Christians is the purpose: hence a warm-hearted welcome is extended by players and intercessors, commencing half an hour before service time, and is open to all.

B.C. Medical Missionary Treats Many Thousands

Representative, Ministers to Needs of Polyglot Coast Population

A new patient admitted into the hospital every day, and nearly five thousand out-patients treated during the year is the record of the United Church hospital at Bella Bella, the superintendent of which is Rev. George E. Darby, M.D., one of the best-known and greatly esteemed mission workers along the Pacific Coast.

For most of the year the work of the missionary is at Bella Bella, a noted Indian village, according to United Church records, where the church has occupied a premier place in the community life for many years. In the fishing season, however, Dr. Darby transfers his headquarters to Rivers Inlet, to be near the four thousand folk—fishermen and families who attend the nets and work in the service.

Much of the service has also to be rendered in the lonely settlements along the rugged ocean coast and the inlets, some extending fifty to one hundred miles inland. To the remote Indian villages or lumber camps or isolated cabins, Dr. Darby finds his way in the mission boat Edward White, so named in honor of a pioneer Methodist missionary, one of a quartette who landed in Victoria in the city's early days. Here he gives spiritual comfort, help, and medical treatment, helping not only to Indians, but also to Canadians, English, Scotch, Irish, Norwegian, Swedish, Danish, American, Icelanders, French, Greek, Finnish, Chinese and Japanese. The need of medical missionary work is said by Dr. Darby to be very great. The Indians are very poor and they live in lonely, separated sections, and their needs are many.

Illustrative of the dire need, Dr. Darby told an interviewer of an old Indian woman who recently came to him, "I have no one to tell me."

"I have no one to tell me," she said. "I have no one to help. After babies."

"Why," said she, "I have had two babies and I ought to know?"

Indoctor I asked, "Where are the babies now?" and to his astonishment the woman had to answer, "They are all dead."

At the First Spiritualist Church, S.O.E. Hall, 1000 Fort Street, the pastor, Rev. Floro Frampton, will give an inspirational address at 7:30 o'clock on Sunday. Mrs. Frampton is a very sincere Spiritualist and an able speaker, and her addresses are always helpful and inspiring. There will be a short organ and clariony at the close of the service. The soloist will be Mrs. Milne.

The Monday public message circle is at 7:45 o'clock at 926 Fort Street. The pastor takes charge of this circle. Thursday, public circle and social hour, 7:45 p.m., at 31 South Turner Street.

At the Sunday morning service in First United Church, Rev. W. G. Wilson, D.D., will preach, taking for his theme a remark made to him frequently: "Fed Up on Religion."

It is reported that Rev. Wilson, D.D., will have a special service at the evening service to be taken ill and is at present a patient in the Jubilee Hospital. His early recovery is confidently expected, and it is hoped that he may yet be able to speak on his interesting subject before he leaves the city. Dr. Wilson will speak on "The Precious Word of Friendship."

On Monday evening the Young People are reassembling, and have a very interesting programme arranged. Rev. Thomas H. Lonsdale, of the First United Church, is to give a special lecture on "The Rockies," illustrated superbly by more than one hundred views which he himself has secured. Because of the special interest in the lecture, the Young People are throwing the meeting open to the public.

The Women's Missionary Society will meet on Monday afternoon, and the "Gleaners" Society at Mrs. McLennan's on Friday evening.

The music for Sunday follows: Monday—vocal duet "Who Could It Be" by Mrs. Jeanne and Misses Linda and Eileen Robinson; "Light in Darkness" (Jenkins), solo; "The Plains of Peace" (De Barnard); "The Plains of Peace" (Schnecker), soloists Mrs. W. H. Wilson, Evening—solo; "Tear Us" (Wey) (De Barnard); "The Plains of Peace" (De Barnard); "The Plains of Peace" (Schnecker), soloists Mrs. W. H. Wilson, Evening—solo; "Alfred Gurney" (a) "Sonata in E" (E. Silas); Andante con Moto and Finale; (b) "Romanza" (Scarlett); (c) "Sonata in F" (Gulli); "March on Theme by Handel" (Gulli).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Scientist textbook: "Select and Hark! With Hark! to the Script and Peace." In the evening soloist will be Mary Baker Eddy: "That master is substantial or has life and sensation, is one of the false beliefs of mortals, and exists only in a supposititious mortal consciousness. Temperance Jubilee to Be Held in Vancouver

Early Efforts of Pioneers in the Movement Will Be Recalled in Celebration—Full Two Days' Programme Arranged

The fifth convention of the Women's Christian Temperance movement, to be held in Chown United Church in Vancouver, from September 18 to 21, will be of special interest to old-timers and many others of Victoria, as it was in this city just fifty years ago that the organization was launched in the province.

Largely through the efforts of Rev. Coverdale Watson, then pastor of Pandora Avenue Methodist Church, the great temperance leader and orator, Frances Willard, came to Victoria, and on July 3, 1883, organized the first local organization, the temperance women of the province. The work received the support of many influential business and professional men of the time, including the leading ministers of the city, and Premier John Robson, the Mayor Redfern, and others. The efforts of the movement will be specially remembered on Wednesday, September 20, when, during the morning session, a "memory hour" will bring to mind interesting events of those early days in various parts of British Columbia, beginning, or course, with Victoria.

Nanaimo's Old-Timer Celebrates

NANAIMO, Sept. 15.—Nanaimo is today congratulating its oldest pioneer, Mr. Richard Prouse, who is celebrating his ninety-third birthday at his Parquhar Street home after an almost continuous residence in this city for the past sixty-four years. He is the last surviving charter member of the Nanaimo Ancient Order of Foresters. He was born in Ringmore, England, September 15, 1840, and has had only one serious illness during his lifetime.

Mr. Prouse came to Nanaimo when the present fan-shaped streets were cow trails. He was city foreman for many years in the early days of the city, retiring in 1893. He ranched on Lasqueti Island for several years.

With four associates he worked the Goldmine Sluice mine on Texada Island, struck gold, sold out, and bonded the property to American capitalists for $50,000. A fortune within grasp vanished when the option period expired, although they made a neat sum out of the mine as far as it was worked.

IN LIGHT INFANTRY

He joined the Royal Canadian Regiment, Royal Marine Light Infantry, in 1859, and was one of one hundred soldiers sent to the San Juan Islands during the dispute with the United States. American soldiers occupied one end of the island, until the Emperor of Germany gave the decision in favor of the United States.

His first job in Canada was steward for the Victoria Jubilee Hospital when Dr. Jackson was in charge.

He married Kathleen Paul, in Portmore, England, in 1880. He has two sons, James Prouse, five acres, Nanaimo, and Mr. John Prouse, Vancouver, and three grand-children.

SEVENTEEN TO FACE STARTER IN BIG EVENT

Brookemeade Favored to Win $100,000 Futurity Today at Belmont

NEW YORK, Sept. 15 (AP)— Seventeen two-year-olds, fifteen colts and two fillies today peered across the track at the Belmont Park, where tomorrow the willow mud strides for the turf's richest North American prize in the forty-fourth running of the $100,000 futurity at Belmont Park.

The track is straightaway, down which the pick of the United States juveniles will dash for 6 1/4 furlongs, a mile and a half, with little likelihood it would be any better by post time, 3 p.m., E.S.T., Saturday. A steady rain is in sight.

In a wide open betting affair, a pair of speeders from Mrs. Dodge Slosson's Brookemeade Stable ruled the choice at 4 to 1 to win the futurity.

The presence of High Quest, second in the hopeful for the year, was largely responsible for the choice given the Brookemeade youngsters. High Quest will have as a running mate, Kepi, a speed sun from the barrier.

Orion Mist resisted challenges of Deserete and the willow mud strides at Belmont Park, but was beaten in the forty-fourth running of the $100,000 futurity at Belmont Park.

B.C. RACING SEASON TO COME TO END TODAY

Two-Mile Race to Feature Closing Card at Willows

Fine Field Will Take Part in Distance Race at Exhibition Grounds—Large Crowd in Attendance Yesterday—Daily Double and One-Two Bets Return Good Prices

The curtain will fall on another British Columbia racing season this afternoon at the Willows five-eighths mile track. A fine programme, which will feature distance races, has been drawn up, and the final event of the day will see what is expected to be a capacity field in one of the popular two-mile races, the King of the Roads. Three other events of a mile or more are scheduled and a large crowd is expected to be on hand.

Yesterday drew one of the largest Friday crowds in several seasons. The ladies were the guests of the men, and the stands were well-filled. Betting was widely distributed as usual when women are in the majority, and although public choices held sway, prices were usually good, but none being sensational. There were a couple of great finishes which caused plenty of excitement.

RED LADY PAYS BEST

On the first day of the meet, the return double figures, Red Lady, in the fourth, paying off $10.60 for two-dollar tickets. The daily double was worth $49.15 and the one-two bet $29.15.

Honors among the riders were widely distributed and none of the bets brought home more than one winner. Chidsey, Stranski, Daniels, Russell, Cochrane, Loring and Trimble were the successful riders.

JUNGLE SHAWL GALLOPS

Taking the lead at the top of the back stretch, Jungle Shawl won the opening race handily. Prince Goldstream was second and Rufe McClain third. Dame Devil was fourth. The pace-setting Evelyn May until ready, then moved up to win by about two lengths. Prince Goldstream closed strongly.

Making every post a winner, Oregon Mist came second the second race. Josella was second and Descrete third. Oregon Mist was rushed to the front from the start, and although challenged throughout gamely held on to win by half a length. Josella was a neck in front of Descrete, who closed strongly. Gaberdine stumbled on the first turn and failed to hit his stride again.

THRILLING FINISH

King Han took a thrilling nose decision over Dusty Miller in the third gallop over a mile. Lord Goldstream was third. King Han and Dusty Miller were like two wild bulls, and provided a sensational duel. Lord Goldstream was a good third and closed strongly.

Closing with a burst of speed on the home stretch, Red Lady surprised all by winning the fourth event. The red-hot favorite, Bob Doyle, was second, and Hindu, Jim third. Red Lady came with surprising speed from third place.

Sons Drop Initial Game of Play-Offs To Japanese, 6 to 2

Three-Run Rallies in First and Fifth Give Asahis Opening Game of Series on Mainland—Musgrave Hurls Good Ball for Local Team

VANCOUVER, Sept. 15 (CP)—Asahis grabbed three runs in the first inning, were never headed after that, and sent Native Sons of Victoria down to a 6-2 defeat at Con Jones Park tonight in the first of a three-game series in the semi-final round of the provincial senior amateur playdowns.

The Island champions, conquerors of the North Shore lead in the first inning, had Joe Fukai singling with the bases loaded and scored in Asahis half, three men scored, and the baseball game was practically lost to Victoria then.

The Terminal Leaguers grabbed another three runs in the fifth frame on hits and a brace of errors, but that first-inning rally was what did the trick. Victoria save for a one-run rally in the fourth inning, never were really dangerous again. Tommy Musgrave, off the Island staff, pitched for Victoria. Just as the game was about over, he showed plenty of stuff on the mound and turned in a nice game. The underhand artist had tough luck in going down to defeat, but Asahis took advantage of every break, and when they got a couple, turned on the heat to make them count for runs.

Jimmy Condon, of B. & W. Ollie, cracked for the winners. He had the Islanders to six hits, issued few walks, and fielded a beautiful game.

Victoria opened fast with a run. Campbell singled, was advanced to second on Roy Barnes' sacrifice, and came home when Jack Bacon singled to right field. Webster struck out and Purman was an out to end the innin-

gues. ASAHIS TAKE LEAD

Asahis got their runs just as fast with one out, Herb Tanaka got on from Kim Campbell's error, moved to second on Condon's walk and stole third. Reg. Yasui was hit by a pitch. Condon walked and the bases were full. Goo Goo, with whom the Asahis had one with the count three and two, and all three runners counted.

Victoria took two hits and a walk to score one more in the fourth. Purman walked, Webster singled, and both moved up on Fleming's error. Hiltner was an infield out. Then Tommy Musgrave hit to right field. Purman scored and Webster was out at the plate on a beautiful throw by Tinling from right field.

Asahis came back in the sixth for another three runs. Tanaka singled with one out, then Purman scored and Hiltner cut. Herb Tanaka singled, and followed with a safety to left field, scoring Shishido. Yasui was safe on Bacon's wild throw of the ball. Webster hit and Tanaka scored. Webster was third to try and Freddie Condon running for Hiltner, and the throw was wide, allowing Condon to score.

STONG RIDGE GOLF COURSE, WINNIPEG, Sept. 15 (CP)—Advanced from the semi-finals by a narrow nineteen-hole victory yesterday, Manitoba's junior champion, Louis Lebel Pepin, and Marjorie Kirkham, of Montreal, together with the Canadian team, were ready for the Canadian women's open golf championship against Ada MacKenzie, Toronto, in the thirty-sixth hole over this intricate course tomorrow.

Miss MacKenzie, who will stay here another week to defend her Canadian closed title at St. Charles Country Club, played safe and steady golf against a high east wind today, to vanquish Mrs. K. B. Bowes, of Manitoba, who had prepared to defend her Canadian women's open golf championship against Ada MacKenzie, Toronto, in the thirty-sixth hole over this intricate course tomorrow.

Both men distinguished themselves with brilliant chip shots that finished the scoring in a fast and skillful manner.

Asahis fortified themselves with four players from other teams in the lead.

The defending champion, Marjorie Todd, young sensation from the Oak Bay Club, is still in the lead.

Security Prices Close Lower at New York Mart

NEW YORK, Sept. 15 (AP)—Stocks continued a decided list in the final dealing to date, while selling in the same fairly active. Previously, the market had been an upturn followed by a period of irregularity and indecision. Net losses were in a 1 to 4 point range, while turnover came to 2,453,400 shares.

Mining and tobacco shares made occasional sallies, but response was slow from other sources after the initial firmness. Utilities again bogged down, joined by the rails and later by the rails.

U. S. Steel, Du Pont, Allied Chemical, American Telephone, Case, New York Central, U. S. Industrial Alcohol, U. S. Smelting, American Commercial Alcohol, Eastern Union, Consolidated Gas, Public Service of New Jersey and Southern Pacific all gained to 3 approximately. Union Pacific and National Distillers' products lost 4. Homestake halved a 12-point rise.

Bonds worked at cross purposes today with domestic issues generally heavy and some foreign dollar loans spurring to new highs for a year more in sympathy with the further buoyancy of gold currencies.

New peak levels were attained by bonds of British East Indies with gains of around 10 points each. French 7 1/2's and 7's also marked up new records by advancing 3 and 2 1/4 points, respectively.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

LITTLE POUCHES OR POCKETS IN WALL OF LARGE INTESTINE

Sometimes a patient will complain of pains in the lower part of the abdomen at the right side, the left side, or in the middle of the lower abdomen.

The symptoms may resemble appendicitis or even cancer, and the physician has an X-ray examination made.

The examination shows no appendicitis or cancer, but a number of little pouches or pockets, or protrusions in the lining of the large intestine which vary in size from a tiny seed to a good sized cherry.

These little pockets contain waste matter from the food, and this waste matter may have all the wastes of the body passed on to it until it is almost as large as a stone.

This condition is found to be more common than was thought previously, although many people seem to enjoy good health despite it.

It is believed that most cases are caused by neglect of the large bowel, holding it too long, with resulting gas pressure.

When these little pockets become inflamed, it sometimes happens that the inflammation extends right through the bowel into the abdominal cavity, causing peritonitis—a serious condition.

When peritonitis occurs, surgery is usually necessary with draining of abscess or even removal of part of bowel.

However, in the majority of cases, even where symptoms are severe, a short grain rest in bed, fluid diet, and use of high enemas—colic irrigations—often relieve acute symptoms.

After the attack has passed, further attacks may be warded off by frequent small doses of Epsom salts.

You can see that with these little pouches in the walls, the walls, in trying to get rid of the material in the wall, squeeze or contract to the point of a spasm. This is a spasm or partial closing of the intestinal canal and a partial or complete blocking or obstruction may occur. Once it is known that the condition exists, care in eating must be used. Harsh or rough foods, and foods containing sharp seeds must be avoided.

It is certainly worth the effort of using soft foods and using water or oil enemas to remove the hard stone-like wastes in the little pockets. If this will prevent the need of a surgical operation.

ON WHICH SIDE ONE'S BREAD IS BUTTERED?

"You needn't worry about him," was the remark, "he knows on which side his bread is buttered."

It means that he knows what is good for him in the sense that he knows where his interests lie. We find a fine of disagreement in the remark used in this about another person, for it implies that that person is prepared to do what is polite and in his own interest.

The words have a time-honored history in English literature. Their origin is found in that old mine of the English language, "Heywood's Proverbs," which was first printed in 1546!

AUTHORS' CLUB HOLDS MEETING

First Gathering of Year Addressed by Three Speakers —Opera Excerpts Given

"Natural poets and natural musicians are the exception rather than the rule," declared Mrs. W. A. Jameson, president of the Victoria Musical Arts Society. In addition to the Victoria and Islands Branch of the Canadian Authors' Association Thursday on "Music and Poetry."

Poetry and music, she said, came under the heading of the art of time or duration together with dance, as distinguished from the art of space, which included architecture and sculpture.

Poetry with its wealth of rhythm, had the power to express totally different meanings merely by the difference of inflection. Music, on the other hand, she contended, consisted of a host of subtle factors relying on time rather than defying and ignoring it.

W. A. Newcombe spoke briefly on the "Origin of Chinook," pointing out that it had originated from the early trade language on the Pacific Coast. It had at that time, said Mr. Newcombe, no numerals, personal pronouns, but many of the other words still retain the language. Of these the most commonly known were "chuck," "kloochman," "kumtuk," "tyee" and "potlatch."

CHINOOK WORDS

C. C. Pemberton dealt with the "Use and misuse of Chinook words in daily conversation, and their application to local color in writing." He told how different meanings of the same words could cause embarrassment and illustrated this with a number of amusing anecdotes drawn from the early history of British Columbia.

Excerpts from the ballad opera, "The Sea King's Daughter," by Mrs. Jameson, Langford, were presented during the evening. The conductor, Eric Edwards, assisted by Connie Laing and Hewitt Fowler, violins, and Carl Benn, cello, rendered the Overture and Prelude to Act II, while Fred Wright, accompanied by Mrs. Wright, sang a number from Act I, and the love song, "Song of Aspiration," from Act II. The reactions were well received and Mrs. Jameson complimented both the author and composer on the quality of their work.

FOX FARM TO BE BUILT IN SAANICH

J. M. Stewart Will Start Work on Buildings at Cultus Avenue, Ward Six

J. M. Stewart's application for building a fox farm on Cultus Avenue, Ward Six, Saanich, was sanctioned by the Saanich Municipal Council at a meeting Thursday, pending approval of the sanitary inspector. The council investigated the farm fully, and it was decided that its locality prevented it from being a public nuisance.

Mr. Stewart will start erection of buildings in about three or four days on property which occupies approximately five acres. The initial outlay will be about $2,000.

Nine single foxes will be used at first, although accommodation for ten pairs of animals is to be built. Mr. Stewart secured sanction of his neighbors before presenting his application to the council.

The new farm starts towards the end of October and continues during the first part of November. Mr. Stewart's foxes are at present on the Prairies.

A similar application from Eric H. Stevens was referred to the School Board, but the proposed locality of this farm is close to Mount Newton High School.

More of Egypt's Treasure Landed At British Port

The Italian salvage ship Artiglio arrived at Plymouth last month, with $20,000 worth of gold and silver recovered from the wreck of the P. & O. S. Egypt, sunk in collision in 1922, with a loss of many lives, twenty-five miles south of Ushant.

The value of the whole treasure which was sunk was substantially more than $100,000. The cargo of gold consisted of 1,089 ingots, which were packed in 120 cases and weighed something over four and one-half tons. There were also thirty-seven boxes of gold sovereigns to the amount of £164,979, consisting of 1,200 bars weighing between sixty and seventy pounds each. The Italian divers on the Artiglio have been working on the wreck for over three years.
